Everyone a winner on Mollycodd Day

It rained Friday. It rained Sunday. But Saturday was a sunny window of opportunity, and thousands of Mollycodd Day celebrants took advantage of Mother Nature's bounty and the community's summer spirit.

For the more competitive, there were lots of opportunities to strut their stuff.

The first winner of the weekend was Ryan Coolidge, who landed the first fish in the Mollycodd Day fishing contest, held Friday at Neil Olson's in East Bethel. Ryan's brother Jason won the prize for the biggest fish of the day. And the award for the best costume was shared by the Osh-Kosh trio, of Matthew, Shawn and Thaddeus Bennett.

The results of Saturday's Mollycodd Day Classic, one-mile and five-mile foot races organized by Bethel Chamber of Commerce, were as follows:

One mile, girls results:
Overall winners: first place, Mary Jo Reed of Auburn, 7:13; second place, Jane Ippolito of Rumford Point, 7:21; third place, Amy Howe of Bethel, 7:22.

Six to eight years old: first place, Emily Parsons of Bethel, 10:07; second place, Eric Gundersen of Bethel, 10:10; third place, Julie Sloan of South Berwick, 10:18.

Nine to 11 years old: first place, Jenny Sue Howe of Bethel, 8:34; second place, Jenny Wheeler, 8:37; third place, Heather Best, 9:49.

The 12-14 years old is the same as the overall results.

One mile boys results:
Overall winners: first place, Jeff Ippolito of Rumford Point, 6:45; second place, Ryan Wing, 6:58; third place, Dan Doherty, 7:00.

Six to eight years old: first place, Justin Easter of Jay, 7:30; second place, Thomas Parsons of Bethel, 8:05; third place, Dan Olson of South Paris, 8:37.

Nine to 11 years old: first place, Nathaniel Mason, Jr. of Stoneham, 7:40; second place, Troy Keech, 7:56; third place, Alan Russell of Bryant Pond, 8:01.

The 12-14 years old are the same results as the overall.

Five miles women results:
Overall winners: first place, Leslie Krichko of Portland, Ore., 30:49; second place, Robin Zinchuk of Bethel, 38:34; third place, Bernice Cadigan of Bethel, 38:53.

Forty to 49 years old: first place, Judy Fahey of Hingham, Mass., 39:09; second place, Ruth Feeney of Bethel, 43:50; third place, Pat Ryan of Hanson, Mass., 44:04.

Five mile men results:
Overall winners: first place, Kevin

Twenty to 29 years old: first place, Virginia Kelley of Bethel, 35:13; second place, Kathryn Brown of Naples, 38:51.

Thirty to 39 years old: first place, Leslie Krichko of Portland, Ore., 30:49; second place, Robin Zinchuk of Bethel, 38:34; third place, Bernice Cadigan of Bethel, 38:53.

Forty to 49 years old: first place, Judy Fahey of Hingham, Mass., 39:09; second place, Ruth Feeney of Bethel, 43:50; third place, Pat Ryan of Hanson, Mass., 44:04.

Board resuscitates breath test debate

By MICHAEL DANIELS

The SAD #44 Board of Directors has voted to once again consider approving a breath-test policy for the district.

In April of last year the board debated at length the merits of such a policy, which would authorize the use of a breathalyzer to measure the use of alcohol content in the system of students suspected of drinking.

The breath-test policy had been recommended by the board's policy committee, at the urging of Telstar administrators.

On the last go-round, the board ultimately voted to reject the idea, but the vote was extremely close. In fact, the hand vote was tied, 8-8, but the majority of Bethel directors (whose votes are the most heavily weighted) voted against the policy and it was defeated.

In the year and a half since that vote the make up of the board has changed, and the policy's most vocal opponent, Stan Howe of Bethel, is no longer on the board.

Supl. Dewaine Craig said that to his knowledge no other district in the state

Unsold Eden Ridge condos set for foreclosure auction

By CHRISTY CROSS

The 10 unsold condominium units and two undeveloped condominium sites at Eden Ridge on Vernon Street will be offered for sale at a public auction Sunday, Aug. 19 at 2 p.m.

The auction is a bank foreclosure auction, according to C. Susan Mason of CSM Real Estate/Keenan Auction Company of Kingfield, which is conducting the sale.

Maine Savings Bank of Portland holds a note on the property.

Mason said Monday the sale will be public and the property will be sold either in its entirety or piece-meal, to the highest bidder.

She said that in a foreclosure sale the bank has a right to bid. But she stressed that, "Most of our auctions go to new consumers."

The foreclosure sale, she said, differs from an "absolute auction," in that in an absolute auction "the bank (or the owner) doesn't bid. Nobody can bid but the actual bidders."

Avery Angevine of Bethel, vice president of Eden Ridge corporation, said

Rt. 2 shopping mall one step closer

By CHRISTY CROSS

Two dozen people at a public hearing in Bethel last week on the proposed Twichell Brook Mall raised questions ranging from the financial viability of the project, to traffic safety at the project's Route 2 entrance, to the impact of the project on the neighborhood.

As planned, the mall will be built 300-400 feet off Route 2-east behind the former location of Telstar Video and will house a 10,000-square foot grocery store, a pharmacy, small bank branch, gift shop, video shop, florist shop and small sandwich shop, according to Tom DuBois, representing mall developer Dagan Associates of Portsmouth, N.H.

"What size is the grocery store?" compared with the Bethel IGA, asked Phyllis Taylor of the Rostay Inn, also on Route 2.

About twice the size of the IGA, before its addition, said William S. Dagan.

Norm Clanton who also lives on Route 2 said, "I'm concerned that our neighborhood is torn up to put this in there, only to find that it's not a financially advantageous spot... and in three years we will have a big white elephant out there."

"I'm talking with real tenants... (and) 20 year commitments," Dagan said, "they've done their market analysis."

Clanton said, "I came from away and I believe there's a uniqueness about this area with regard to businesses coming in here." They come in all right, he said, then up goes a For Sale sign.

Citing a market survey done by one of his prospective tenants, Dagan said, "I think it's three-quarters of the (local) grocery dollars that are being spent outside Bethel right now... and on Friday night the greatest portion of the grocery traffic will come from people on their way to Sunday River."

"If they're hanging their hats on Sunday River, I think they're going to be sadly disappointed," said Taylor. "Most of the people coming to Sunday River bring their own food."

"They are not counting on Sunday River at all," Dagan said. "They are counting demographics, using strictly the year round population."

Abutter Don Chase said, "It seems like this whole thing, when it turns out, is just going to be a failure."

Dagan said, "I have never, ever

Woodstock 175th birthday celebration

Incorporated in 1815, the Town of Woodstock will celebrate its 175th birthday this weekend with three days of fireworks, parades and dancing.

Other birthday activities will include a "whatever" boat parade on Lake Christopher, open to whoever and whatever can float its way out to the small island. (Note: the boat parade will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday and replaces the candlelight parade originally scheduled for that evening.)

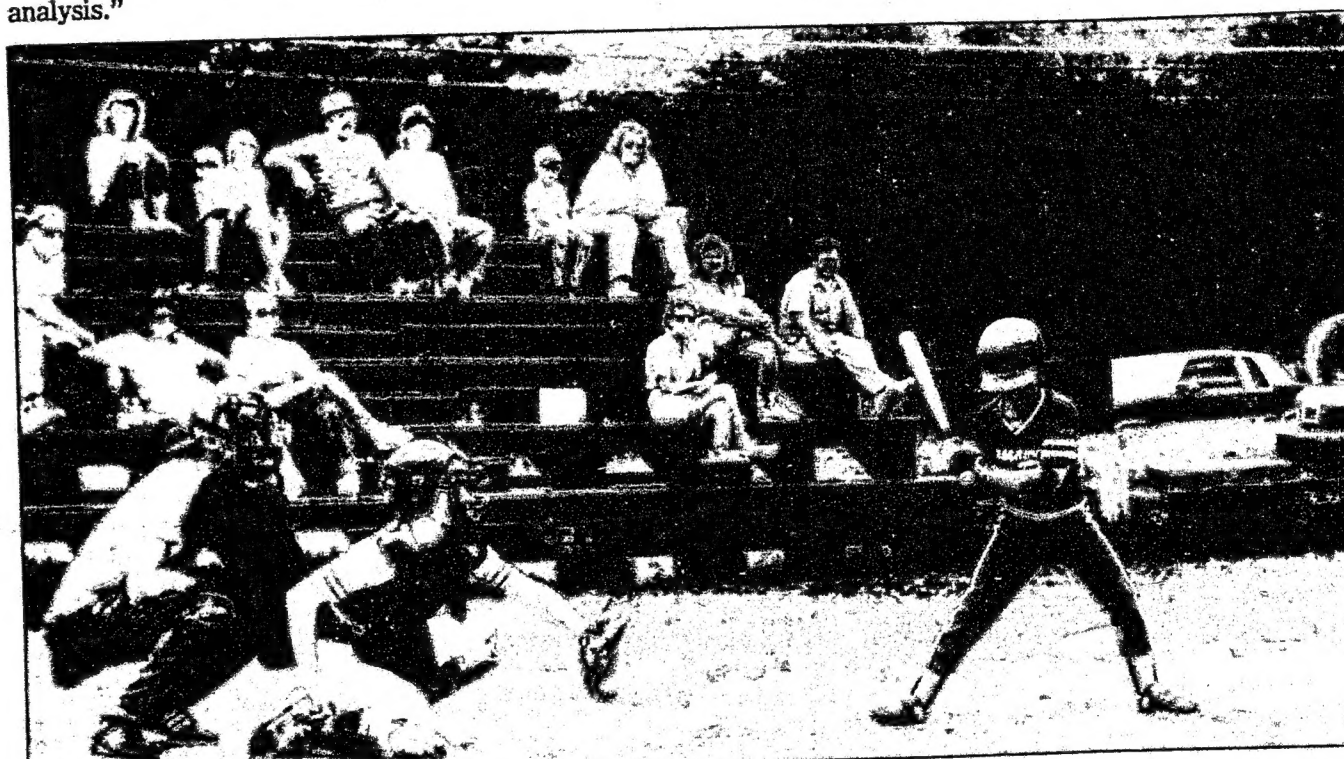

And on Sunday there will be a dedication of the town's ballfields, followed by an Old Timers' ball game.

The events have been organized by the town's 175th Birthday Committee. Committee Chairman Pam House said that any profits from the celebration will go toward municipal improvements.

House said a number of other organizations have pitched in to make the celebration a success.

"Our goal is a fun-filled weekend for everyone," she said.

The complete schedule of events is listed on page 16.

BATTER UP—Greenwood's Timmy Hebert passes up this offering during Monday's semi-final Little League game between Greenwood and Andover. Number 2 seeded Greenwood prevailed, and will face the top-seeded Bethel Red Sox in the championship game Thursday, August 2. The game will be played at the Locke Mills field, starting at 5:30.

Bethel police investigating robbery, burglary

By CHRISTY CROSS

Bethel police are investigating a robbery and a burglary which occurred last week, with a reported total of $1,600 missing.

Police Chief Brian Stowell said Monday he believes the two incidents are unrelated.

On Tuesday, July 17 at 9:40 p.m. police received a call from the Big Apple on Railroad Street that a robbery had occurred.

According to the police report, an employee at the store said two men had entered the store together and that, while she was talking with one of the men, she lost sight of the other. She said the second man then approached her from behind and said, "Open the drawer." She said she did as she was told and gave the men four $20 bills from the drawer. She said they then left the store.

The woman described the men both as being six feet tall and of slight to medium build. One, according to the report, had short brown hair; a neat appearance, and was wearing blue

Andover to send Schachter to tax assessing school

By BARBARA ADAMS

In an effort to end any confusion town officials or residents have concerning laws relating to property assessments, the selectmen voted July 17 to send Administrative Assistant Rebecca Schachter to a week-long course in assessing at the University of Maine in Orono.

The selectmen had voted at their last meeting not to send her.

Their reversal was prompted in part by Schachter, who told selectmen that she found several recent instances of people taking their land out of tree growth but not paying the penalty required by the state.

Schachter said following the meeting that the laws relating to tree growth are complex and some residents may have been given incorrect information in the past and may not know that there are penalties involved. She said she knew of two or three instances in which the penalties were not assessed and that she will be reviewing the town's records to see if there are any others.

According to Schachter, penalties must be paid by anyone removing land from tree growth, but there is a three year statute of limitations.

Schachter will be reimbursed for her tuition and will be paid for her usual 30 hours of work.

The selectmen said they thought it advisable to have someone in the town office familiar with the constant changes in regulations affecting tree growth.

"I don't like people slipping through the holes," said Fred Emerson, chairman of the board of selectmen.

In other business, Steve Swasey was the successful bidder on the reconstruction of the first section of South Arm Road, a stretch which measures a little over 3 miles, and, the selectmen gave Swasey permission to burn a building at the dump, provided the burning didn't add any material to the dump.

Also, Selectman Brian Mills suggested having a public restroom open for a two week period to accommodate participants in the recreation program and for the time being the downstairs bathroom in the back of the Town Hall is being considered. Chairman Emerson suggested that the recreation committee include an item in this regard in their budget for next year.

Fire Chief Ken Dixon submitted the following article to be placed on the warrant at the special August town meeting: "To see if the town will authorize the fire chief with concurrence of the selectmen to purchase a used tanker/pumper should one become available, from the new fire truck account."

According to treasurer Alex LeGault the amount in the new fire truck account totals $43,500. LeGault also informed the selectmen there is $115,000 of undesignated funds in the surplus account.

Dixon was taken by the Forestry Service last weekend on a helicopter tour over Andover.

Assessor Sandy Hebert told the selectmen that in the revaluation of the town, she has discovered five new buildings on South Arm Road, only three of which have building permits. Penalties will be assessed against those persons without a permit, totaling three times the cost of the permit.

Road Commissioner Wilbur Chenery will be told by the selectmen to remove an unhealthy cedar tree on the Common.

Del LaPerle completed the cleaning of six rows of gravestones at Woodlawn cemetery, plus the gravestone of Mollycodd and adjoining stones. He also did an additional row at no cost to the town. He will be asked for a cost to clean the brass on stones on the Common.

The Highway Department will begin painting Black Brook and Crocker bridges. It was estimated 15 gallons of paint would be needed for Black Brook bridge and 30 gallons for Crocker bridge.

Opinions

The irony of the outcry

The Bethel Planning Board has before it two major site plan review applications, one for Twitchell Brook Mall on Route 2 north of Bethel village and one for Bethel Park Apartments, right in the heart of the village.

The planning board held a public hearing on the proposed shopping mall last week. Two dozen people attended, voicing their opposition—from concerns about flooding to spoiling the natural beauty of the area to questioning the financial viability of the project.

We expect the same kind of outcry at the planning board meeting tonight, with the official Bethel Park Apartments application on the table. The Bethel Park Apartments project is a 48-unit affordable apartment complex on a seven-acre lot behind Broad Street. Drainage will be a problem, people are saying, as will the increased traffic on Mason Street, as will the addition of 48 housing units on municipal services, particularly schools.

In the instance of the shopping mall, the developers have worked with the planning board and with the planning board's consultants to design a project that appears—at least on paper—to meet the requirements of the site plan review ordinance.

We expect in the instance of the housing project, the developers will also meet the ordinance requirements.

So what are all these people objecting to—really?

Obviously, they are objecting to where, where being Not In My Back Yard.

It appears there's just a slim wedge of irony emerging here. In 1989 the people of Bethel voted against reinstating a zoning ordinance in their town. That vote left the planning board with its hands tied.

When a townspeople says, "You can't tell me what I can and can't build where," which is essentially what the vote said, the flip side always, eventually, arises: They can't tell other people what they can and can't build where.

Though the Site Plan Review Ordinance alleviates some of that flip side, it can't do what the people are now asking the planning board to do, which is to tell these developers to build their projects someplace else.

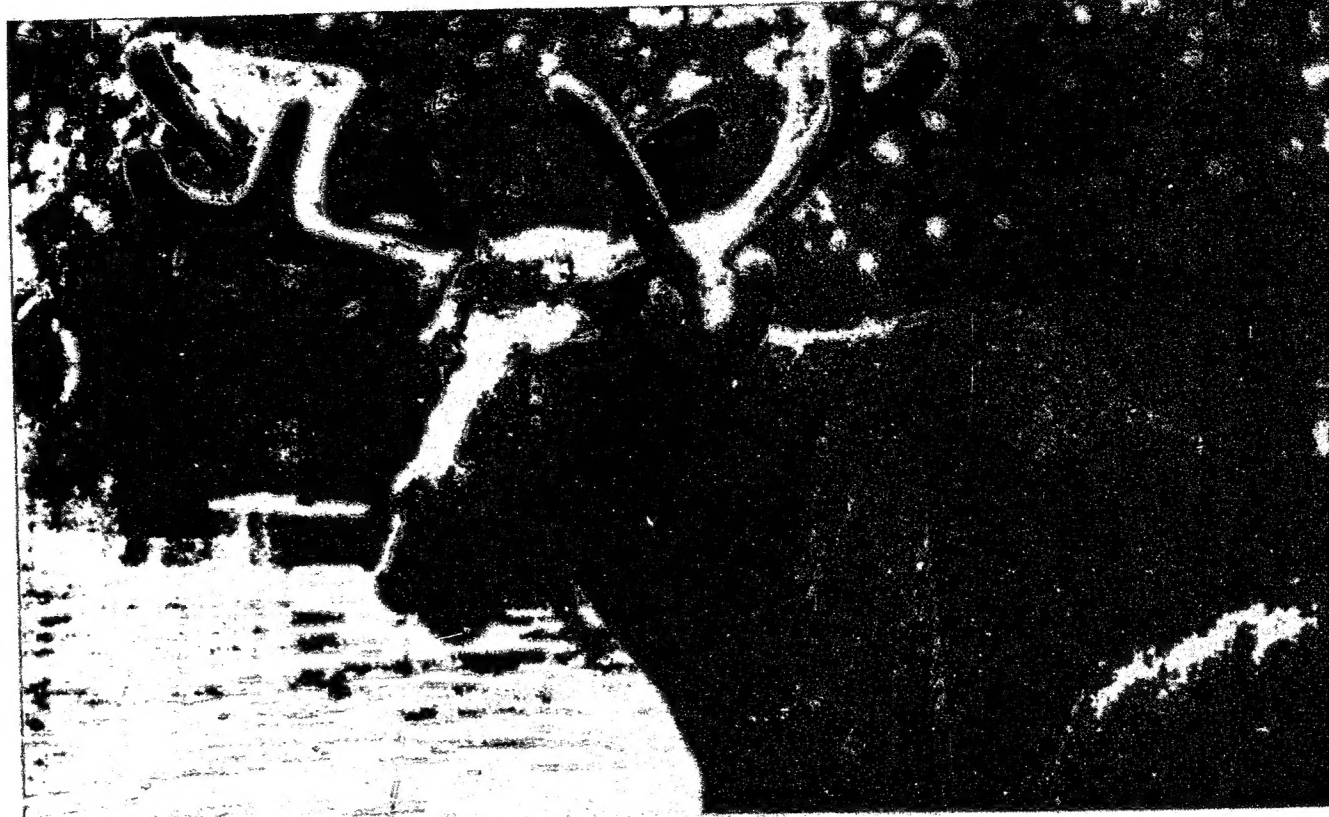

As peculiar as it may sound, as times change, change is necessary in order for things to remain the same.

With Sunday River Skiway drawing thousands of cars each weekend up Route 2, it's only a matter of time before strip development takes over. With even marginal large lots in the village area, close to schools and shopping and town sewer and water, it is inevitable that high-density housing will eventually be built.

And it may already be too late to stop it—assuming, of course, that the majority of Bethel residents want to stop it. Whatever the desire of the majority of the residents, the town should be getting itself into a pro-active position rather than the present reactive position.

The economy is in a major slump right now; development is nearly at a standstill in most areas. Now is the time to be preparing for the return of the economic upswing—because, whether six months or six years down the road, it will come.

Now is the time, not only for Bethel residents but for all the area residents, to decide what kind of communities they want. —CCC

FIRE CONTAINED: THANKS

To the Editor:

Greenwood Fire Department and Woodstock Fire Department:

It is with heartfelt thanks and admiration I express my appreciation for your spontaneous response and cooperation to our fire emergency of July 11.

Thanks to your immediate arrival and abilities we were able to contain this fire in the originating piece of duct work and insure it was completely extinguished with a minimal amount of fire or water damage.

As I have mentioned on previous occasions—when the necessity occurs, your services to the surrounding townspeople are rivaled by none. We at Gilbert Mfg. Corp. applaud and thank you for a job well done.

TURKEY OWNER RESPONDS

To the Editor:

In response to "Dog Still Alive."

Dear Dog:

I had put your little escapade behind me, but upon hearing of your owner's article in the July 11 "Bethel Citizen," I felt I had to respond, for your sake, not your owner's. It's too bad your owner didn't care for you enough or know the Maine laws. He also knows nothing of your behavior, turkeys or guns. I am truly sorry that I had to shoot you but there are no bad kids, only bad parents.

There are about 225 pellets per load in a one oz. #6, 12 ga. squirrel load. So if I had shot you in the face at close range (as your owner claims) with two of the loads (450 pellets) you would have been killed not just wounded. I am also sure you had far more than 80 pellets in you and they weren't in your face.

I was born and raised in Maine and I shot my first deer in the Maine woods at 12 years of age. I am now 33 and have never lost a wounded deer or any other animal from not knowing which end to shoot at or when to shoot. I am always sure of my target before I raise my weapon. It would have made no difference if you belonged to a "Flat-lander" or a Maine native. I still would have had to shoot you. I also had nothing against your owner before this happened. My brother and I had visited with him and his friend a few times when they moved here.

A friend of your owner's was warned a few weeks before when you were in my yard bothering my birds, besides the turkey you mangled (one wing, both legs, his back and part of one breast were all wasted because of your instinct to kill), I also have 12 brothers, six younger turkeys, 50 laying hens and a cat which are worth a great deal more than you. I'm sure they all looked tasty too. The turkey you mangled stood over three feet tall and weighed 60 to 65 lbs. live. He was one and a half years old and dressed out at 50 lbs, not the 15 lbs. your owner claims. So he paid about $7.50 a lb., not $3.33 a lb. This was not a mass produced, frozen turkey. This was a home raised bird worth more and far better tasting than the store bought turkey. As you know you jumped a four foot pen and drove the turkey out of it. Yes, a 65 lbs. turkey can fly.

The reason you nearly bled to death was your owner's fault. If he had been looking for you when it happened. All he did for over two hours was scream and swear at me. He also threatened to shoot me. He continued yelling at me from his house and even threatened my mother. While he was doing all of this, two women walked and drove up and down the road to look for you. They never went more than 20 feet into the woods even though I told them which way you headed out. I'm sorry I didn't track you myself and put a ribbon for him where you lay, but I had a mangled turkey to take care of and a game warden to call. I won't give the warden's name, but the incident is on the record.

The way I checked the scene and the turkey and agreed I was within the law and that you did the damage (not the shotgun). He also explained the law to your owner and told him if it happened again he would lay you away himself. He also had to warn your owner against retaliation and threatening me and my mother. I have heard from a couple of neighbors that you and a friend have been running loose on their property. One has warned him about it. I guess he doesn't learn too quickly. I thought I was being nice to your owner by not taking him to court, as he paid for the turkey. If there is a next time you won't fair so well and your owner will go to court. This will cost him a great deal more. I know the Maine laws and your owner had better learn them too. I am talking to the dog in this article because he is truly the one I feel sorry for. It is also not meant to be humorous. It's just too bad people didn't obey the laws. Neighbors could get along a lot better if they did.

I hope this is finally over with and your owner and his friends, (native or Flat-lander) can get along with everyone.

A caring and very angry native who also likes animals and some Flat-landers too...

KNOWS WHAT'S GOING ON

To the Editor:

I just received my sewer bill and it showed a liberal increase. My property tax has doubled since I bought my house. My sister's tax has tripled. We have a $6 million school budget to teach the students not to read or write. They are going to pay some one $50 per hour to "gawk" at a sewer pipe. "They" are those in Bethel that are paid $700 plus a week. It has come to the point that a person can't live in his own hometown. If "Duce" where are you? Do you suppose that federal law is slowly creeping into Bethel or should I say the Code of Hammurabi (1900 B.C.)

I won't be surprised if some of the local Zealots try to do what they did in Lewiston in 1850. They rounded up all the poor people and carted them to Lower Dallas in Rangeley where they spent the rest of their lives living in caves and shacks with nothing to eat and very little to wear.

If they do this then they can build a fence around the town and let no one in but the WTL and the skiers.

There are 1,600 voters in Bethel and a very few show up to any meeting. If some B.B. brain politician was running for office they would flock to the polls in droves. Many people would be killed in the rush.

Finally I would like to say that I am quite new to the area. I have only lived in Bethel for 70 years, therefore I don't know much about what is going on. Some people would like to think so.

FAITH RESTORED

To the Editor:

There are times when it takes a lot to restore my faith in human nature and this week I needed it. The story and photos, "Jeep Pickup," by Michael Daniels were wonderful. The world needs fewer slobs and more people like the Gaudreaus; anyone who names a child "Precious" has his values in the right place and anyone who covers Mother Nature with a wagonload of garbage deserves a cloven hoof-print on the head. Thank you, Mr. Daniels, you and a friend have been running loose on their property. One has warned him about it. I guess he doesn't

THIS WEEK AT THE

Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society are reminded that the next monthly meeting will be held on Thursday, Aug. 2, in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Featured speaker for the evening will be Dr. Richard Judd, Assistant Professor of History at the University of Maine, Orono, who will make a presentation on the history of tourism in Maine. A native of Michigan, Dr. Judd received his undergraduate education at California State University, Fullerton, Calif. He received his M.A. in history there as well as a Ph.D. at the University of California, Irvine, Calif.

In addition to his responsibilities at the University of Maine where he teaches Maine history, Dr. Judd is editor of the "Maine Historical Society Quarterly." A former associate editor of the "Journal of Forest History," and he held a post-doctoral fellowship at the University of Maine, where he completed the research for his most recent book, "Aroostook: A Century of Logging in Northern Maine, 1831-1931," published by the University of Maine Press. He was also published widely on the history of Maine tourism and urban socialism. Dr. Judd is a historical consultant for the Maine Forest and Logging Museum, Inc. and serves on the editorial board of the "Journal of Forest History." He is also a trustee of the Maine Historical Society and editor-in-chief of Maine History Textbook project. Anyone interested in hearing Dr. Judd's presentation is cordially invited to attend.

New lake protection rules adopted

New rules protecting the natural and cultural resources of the approximately 3,000 lakes and ponds in Maine Land Use Regulation Commission's jurisdiction have been adopted by unanimous vote of the commission's seven citizen members.

According to Land Use Regulation Commission Director David Boulter, the rules place certain lakes in special management categories, establish new development standards for the shoreline frontage and setbacks and enable landowners to develop lake concept plans to manage development of lake shores.

"This is a major step toward protecting Maine's high value lake resources. These rules establish a comprehensive approach to lake management that will over time pay very big dividends," Boulter said.

The new rules create several management classes for lakes including two that provide protection from development and maintain lakes in an undeveloped state. Another category allows limited development of one dwelling per acre of shoreline. Lakes in another management class may potentially accommodate more development.

The lake concept plan element of the program creates a process whereby landowners with extensive frontage on one or several lakes may propose a comprehensive plan for the frontage. The plan must balance development of some areas with protection of others.

The new development standards set by the rules require shoreline frontage of 200 feet per dwelling, and a 100 foot shoreline setback. This is in line with recent changes to the state's shoreland zoning for municipalities.

The adoption of the lake rules culminates nearly five years of resource effort to provide protection suited to the unique character and resources of Maine's wildland lakes. An assessment of all the lakes begun in 1986 resulted in rating each lake in seven different resource categories: for fisheries, wildlife, scenic shoreland, botanic, physical and cultural resources.

Following the assessment, a committee of landowners, interest groups and state agencies was formed to plan the use and protection of the lakes based on the information provided by the assessment.

Cooperation of land owners and land managers and public interest groups was essential to the success of the program.

The lakes action program is unique for its assessment of the resources of lakes across so broad an area. The breath of the commission's jurisdiction—all the unorganized townships and plantations in Maine, including almost half the state and 10 million acres—enabled the program to assess lake resources on the basis of statewide or even national significance and adopt protection for a lake based on this perspective.

Lake management classifications

Areas lakes and their classifications are as follows:

Class 1—In Mason Township, Trout Pond, 17 acres.

Class 5—In Albany Township, Hutchinson Pond, 96 acres; Kneeland Pond, 16 acres; Papoose Pond (Little), 19 acres; Proctor Pond, 45 acres; Songo Pond, 224 acres.

Lake approaching Class 5: In Albany Township, Chalk Pond, 25 acres.

Management Class 1 lakes are high value, least accessible, undeveloped lakes. It is the Commission's goal to preserve the best examples of these pristine lakes in their natural state by prohibiting development within 1/4 mile of these lakes. Existing timber harvesting standards are currently considered sufficient to protect the values associated with these lakes from forest management activities. A number of lakes that meet the criteria for Management Class 1 are not designated as such because they are already protected through remote pond zoning.

Management Class 2 lakes are high value, accessible, undeveloped lakes. The Commission intends to conserve the special values of these lakes by significantly restricting the density and intensity of development. These restrictions will be applied to the area within 500 feet of the lakeshore to enable the Commission to regulate back lot development which could affect the lake's special values and is consistent with the management intent of the lake. Variation of density requirements may only be sought as part of a concept plan which is demonstrated by clear and convincing evidence to be fully protective of the special values associated with the lake. Existing timber harvesting standards are currently considered sufficient to protect the values associated with the lakes from forest management.

Management Class 3 lakes are those lakes considered by the Commission to be potentially suitable for development based on available information on water quality, access, conflicting uses, shoreland availability, water level fluctuation, location, regional considerations, and special planning needs. Soils were not considered in the designation of these lakes due to lack of information, and may affect the appropriateness of this designation for some lakes.

The Commission supports additional responsible development around Class 3 lakes, yet resource values are considered. The Commission will waive the adjacency criterion for development proposals on these lakes provided it can be demonstrated to its satisfaction by clear and convincing evidence that the lake has no existing or potential water quality problems and that soils are suitable for development. This waiver is strictly limited to shoreland, and proximate areas may not subsequently use shoreland development on Class 3 lakes to meet the adjacency criterion.

Management Class 4 lakes are high value, developed lakes. The Commission's goal for these lakes is to allow a reasonable level of residential and recreational development while conserving natural resource values and maintaining undeveloped shoreland areas. The Commission will take special care in evaluating and regulating new subdivisions proposed on these lakes and will require cluster development to protect natural values except where clear and convincing evidence to the contrary is shown.

Management Class 5 consists of heavily developed lakes. The Commission seeks to maintain natural qualities associated with these lakes, enhance scenic values, and retain some undeveloped shoreline by requiring cluster development on these lakes except where clearly inappropriate due to site characteristics. The Commission has identified lakes approaching heavily developed status and will pursue similar goals on these lakes.

Management Class 6 lakes are remote ponds—unaccessible, undeveloped lakes with coldwater game fisheries. The Commission intends to continue to prohibit development within 1/2 mile of these ponds to protect the primitive recreational experience and coldwater lake fisheries in remote settings.

Management Class 7 consists of all lakes not otherwise classified, including many lakes which have multiple outstanding or significant resource values identified in the Wildland Lakes Assessment.

Rt. 2 mall

developed a piece of real estate that's gone anywhere's near vacant."

Both Clanton and Eva Schools joined Taylor in questioning the developers about traffic generated by the mall.

Taylor asked if the speed limit in the area would be reduced. She cited two bad traffic accidents, one in 1987 and one last winter.

DuBois said Bill Bray, who has in the past done work for the town, had been hired by Dogan Associates to do a traffic analysis. Based on Bray's work, DuBois said, an exclusive left turn lane and an exclusive right turn lane involving (minor) reconstruction of a portion of the Route 2 roadway, and re-painting lane lines had been added to the project.

The developers said neither a speed limit reduction nor a traffic light were being considered.

Schools said, "I think we've tossed these accidents off in rather a flip manner." She cited three people who had been either badly injured or killed in traffic accidents in the area. All, she said, had been on icy roads.

"You're absolutely right about the value of human life," DuBois said. "But we are trying to use valid methods to design this project safely."

Along other lines, one man asked, "Just for jollies, why do you want to build in a damned flood plain?"

DuBois said, "We like the location, and the soils, when it's not flooded, are excellent."

Terry Perry, who used to live in the area of the proposed mall, asked DuBois, "Would you want this next door to you? These people are all here because they don't want it next door."

DuBois laughed, as did others in the room, and he commended Perry. "This is the first time anyone has been that honest."

Bethel Selectman Henry Domkowski said, "I've lived here 28 years. One of the problems with Bethel is that nobody here wants any progress."

Taylor said, "I don't think we're against progress... we just don't want a shopping mall in our backyards. Why wreck a gorgeous piece of property when there are other places that have already been torn up?"

Planning board member Celina Couture asked, "How is the shopping center going to affect the abutters?"

"Nationally," Dogan said, "any development of this nature has increased adjacent property values, and that's in every appraisal manual you'll ever look at."

Planning board member Reggie Brown wrapped up the hearing, saying, "Most of the concerns brought up here tonight we've heard from day one."

"The (Site Plan Review) Ordinance was voted on by the town," said Planning Board Chairman Dennis Doyon. "What we go by is, does the developer—any developer—meet the criteria of the site plan review. If they meet all those, then we act accordingly."

After the hearing, the developer has 30 days to come back to the board for a decision, according to planning board members.

Sailing standings

After three races, the top standings in the North Pond Sailing Association's 1990 regatta season are as follows: First place, 1858 points, Warren Gaiway; second place, 1736 points, Jim Catlin; third place, 817 points, Lorraine Catlin.

All three of the leaders are from Harspawell.

Organizer Blaine Mills reports that there has been a strong turnout for this year's events.

The association's next race will be Sunday, July 29, at North Pond, beginning at 1 p.m.

Bethel police report

On Friday, July 20 at 3:03 p.m. a Paradise Road resident reported a dirt bike being ridden by male juveniles on lower Paradise Road, Evergreen Road and Bethel Inn Condo Drive.

At 9:20 a.m. police received a report from a California couple that, while driving on Route 2 just east of the Northwest Bethel Road the driver heard a loud "Pouf," and, upon stopping, found that a window directly behind his door had shattered and blown into the club cab. Police believe the window may have been broken by a rock thrown by a lawn mower.

On Thursday, July 19 at 6:19 p.m. a New Hampshire tractor-trailer truck driver reported his truck had damaged the railroad tracks on Lower Main Street and asked police to contact the railroad. At 6:30 p.m. the railroad dispatcher told police that all trains would be held up until the tracks were repaired. The railroad blocked off Lower Main Street at 7 a.m. Friday to repair the tracks.

At 8 p.m. a Spring Street resident reported kids skateboarding too close to his house early in the morning and late at night.

At 2:35 p.m. a Skillings Road resident asked for police permission to tow an unregistered farm trailer to Chapman Street to prepare it as a float for the Mollycodd Day parade.

At 1:57 p.m. a Route 28 resident reported a theft sometime in the previous two weeks of various items, including a handgun, jewelry, rings, a telescope and a TV from a storage shed.

At 11:30 a.m. a Chapman Street resident reported what seemed to be damage to the skateboarding ramp behind the Bethel Inn Conference Center. Police checked with a couple of skateboarders and determined the ramp was okay.

At 11:13 a.m. a Rhode Island woman reported that she was downtown when a young man bumped into her from behind. A short time later, she found about $400 in assorted bills missing from an envelope in her purse.

At 7:58 a.m. police received a report of an attempted break-in at the bus garage on Lower Main Street.

On Tuesday, July 17 at 3 p.m. a Bryant Pond man called police regarding a phone call he had received from a Dick Austin of the American Federation of Police magazine. Austin reportedly told the man if he bought an advertisement in the magazine, part of the money would be given to local police departments and police programs, such as DARE. Police told the man to call the Maine Attorney General's Office.

At 5:40 p.m. police attempted to assist a motorist at Gould Academy who had locked his keys in his car. The attempt was unsuccessful and a locksmith had to be called.

At 9:30 p.m. police assisted a motorist on Route 2 in West Bethel who was having problems with her car's generator.

On Monday, July 16 at 11:58 p.m. a Route 2 (Mayville) resident reported a truck idling at a turn off on the road was keeping people awake. The truck operator agreed to move the vehicle to a rest area on Route 2 east of the Sunday River Road.

At 10 a.m. an Albany resident reported children playing in the fountain at the Common.

On Sunday, July 15 at 1:45 a.m. police assisted a motorist on Route 2 who was having problems with her car alternator.

On Saturday, July 14 at 6:20 p.m. a Broad Street resident reported the theft of a sign from his lawn. On July 16 he reported it had been recovered.

Bethel Historical Society launches 1990 fund-raising

Howard W. Cole of Bethel, chairman of the 1990 Endowment Campaign Committee of the Bethel Historical Society, announced today that the society will attempt to raise $3,000 for the organization's endowment before Jan. 1, 1991.

Cole, retired president of W.J. Wheeler of South Paris, has successfully directed the society's seven previous campaigns, which have raised over $50,000 for the endowment from several hundred businesses and individuals.

A life member of the Society, Cole has been active in fund-raising for various organizations including Stephens Memorial Hospital in jeans and a blue windbreaker-type jacket with a wide orange stripe on the front. The other had shoulder length curly brown hair and was wearing a dark, solid-colored windbreaker-type jacket.

On Wednesday, July 18 at 4:58 a.m. police received a call from an employee at Brown's Mobil on Route 2 that a burglary had occurred.

According to the police report, $1,500 was taken from a safe and a cash register tray at the store. Police also reported damage to a plywood panel, an overhead door and an inside window.

Chief Stowell said both the robbery and the burglary are still under investigation. "We have absolutely nothing at this point on the reported robbery and we are pursuing an investigation on the burglary and have suspects."

How to use our factory stores:

1. If you don't understand the pricing, just ask. The discounts we offer are from 35 to 65% off our regular prices, and sometimes we mark down an item several times. So look for the latest markdown.
2. If at first you don't find your size, try looking one or two sizes above and below. We probably do have your size—only sometimes sizes get mixed together.
3. Leave yourself plenty of time to explore. You never know what you'll find. Some of our items are out-of-season or discontinued from our catalog. But you always can find a wide variety of first-quality items, samples, factory seconds and slightly imperfect products at substantial savings from regular prices. Plus everything in our factory stores is 100% guaranteed when you return it with your receipt.
4. Visit us often and when other people don't. All of our stores receive truckloads weekly, so there's always a new selection. The best shopping is when it's quiet—mornings right after we open and evenings during and after dinner.
5. Get to know your local factory store, and visit the others when you have the chance. Each store is different, and all will surprise you. Freeport receives deliveries daily, so the bins, shelves and racks are restocked constantly with fresh items. North Conway was our first factory store, and they receive shipments several times a week. You can find discounted sporting equipment, and sometimes furniture, on the second floor. Ellsworth is our newest store. The best days to shop here are Tuesday and Friday, right after weekly shipments are shelved.

New boat dock in Harrison

HARRISON—The Decker Corp. of Harrison has announced the completion of a new 24-slip boat dock at its corporate headquarters located on the shore of Long Lake, known locally as the Harrison Insurance Agency.

The dock, designed by Continental Docks of Auburn, is made of environmentally safe fiberglass, according to corporate Vice President Stan Harmon.

The 24 slips are available for seasonal rental or for shorter periods, such as weekly or monthly, said corporation President Peter Connell.

Wind turbines to top mountain peaks

WESTERN MOUNTAINS—As many as 60, 100-foot tall wind turbines may be built somewhere in the mountainous region of Oxford and Franklin counties within five years by a New Gloucester firm interested in converting wind to watts.

Harley Lee, president of Endless Energy Corp., said earlier this month he plans to erect the commercial wind power turbines to generate electricity for Central Maine Power Co., which has a demonstration contract with Lee's corporation.

Endless Energy must demonstrate to the power company that it can bring on line and actually generate electricity, said Clark Irwin, CMP supervisor of publications.

Lee has conducted feasibility studies on Sugarloaf Mountain at Carrabassett Valley since December 1988, including measuring wind speed and turbulence. While the results of the studies are confidential, they are apparently encouraging; Lee is now in the process of selecting a site.

Sugarloaf Mountain was the original choice, but now that the Sugarloaf Mountain Corp. is "tied up with trying to sell the company, they've put it on the back burner," Lee said, noting that other possible sites are all in the Western Mountains.

About three miles of ridgeline, the high area of mountains well-exposed to the wind, are needed for the 60 turbines, which have 92-foot rotor diameters, Lee said.

The huge turbines will generate 15 megawatts of electricity and produce between 500,000 and 1 million kilowatt hours per year. That amount would serve about 150 households per turbine each year, he said.

Bank keeps Bear Pond Park

NORTH TURNER—Bear Pond Park, which has been in business 50 years in North Turner, was put on the auction block July 7.

It appeared that five bidders took part in the sale, which lasted less than 30 minutes and was attended by about 40 townspeople.

The auctioneer asked for an opening bid of $500,000, but bidding started substantially lower. At the conclusion of the sale, Androscooggin Savings Bank—current owner of the property—bought the property back for $345,000 when the requested opening bid was not reached.

The shorefront park that for many years was a major gathering place for area youngsters was purchased by Ralph and Elizabeth Simpson about four years ago. The couple began construction on a recreation vehicle park, which was never opened, and a plan for a proposed mobile home park on the property was withdrawn from the local approval process in 1989.

Earlier this year, Androscooggin Savings Bank gave official notice of foreclosure on the Simpson's loan and the subsequent auction.

It was not clear following the auction what will be done with the property, although local and state shoreland zoning ordinances will limit the options for the beachfront. The acreage that goes with the park, however, does not have all the same restrictions and limitations.

A proposal in June that the town purchase the property was not feasible, according to selectmen, due to the town's current financial condition. The funds for such a purchase, if available, would have to be approved by voters at a special town meeting, selectmen stated.

The park, in addition to the beach, has a snack bar, arcade, go-cart track and miniature golf course. It did not open for business this season.

Naturalists band eagle chicks

MAGALLOWAY RIVER—Two bald eagle chicks, the first wild-born eaglets to survive this long in the State of New Hampshire in about 40 years, were banded this month by naturalists who now plan to sit back and let nature take its course.

"It went very well, very well indeed," said Iain MacLeod, spokesperson for the Audubon Society of New Hampshire. "Both chicks are very healthy."

MacLeod said Mike Amarole of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service climbed a tree on a small island in the Magalloway River near Lake Umbagog to reach the six-week old eaglets and put identification bands on their legs.

Amarole reported that "the chicks looked really well, no signs of any parasite," MacLeod said. But it's too early to tell whether they are male or female.

The parent eagles are the first to nest in New Hampshire since 1949. The tree in which the two nested last year was the same one in which eagles last were seen in the State of New Hampshire.

The Audubon Society, the Fish and Wildlife Service and the state Fish and Game Department are working together to rebuild New Hampshire's eagle population.

Ski resort auction nets $7 million

WATERVILLE VALLEY—All 103 ski area condominiums on the auction block July 11 in Waterville Valley were snatched up by eager bidders, some of whom paid $115,000 less than the original asking price.

The auction at Golden Eagle Lodge netted nearly $7 million, said Tom Corcoran, president of Golden Eagle Associates, which owns the condos.

"It wasn't as good as I had hoped, but that's still a lot of money, any way you look at it," Corcoran said after the four-hour auction that he said drew 1,400 people, including 362 registered bidders.

Eagle Lodge's experience is becoming more common in the region as new ski-area condo sales reflect the financial trouble facing resort developers. In the year or so since the Golden Eagle Lodge opened, only 36 of the 139 units were sold outright. The remaining units were sold to 98 individual buyers during the no-minimum auction, Corcoran said.

He said there were also 75 reserve bidders who would fill in if any of the deals didn't go through.

Corcoran said the sale prices ranged from $50,000 for a furnished one-bedroom apartment to $149,000 for a two-bedroom, for which the original asking price were from about $95,000 to $264,000, respectively.

"In any event, these were obviously great bargains," said Corcoran, a former Olympic skier who also is president of the Waterville Valley Company, Inc. "We've got 103 very happy new owners in Waterville Valley."

Corcoran said he believed the Eagle Lodge auction represented the largest number of units sold at any one time in the region, where the slow economy is making it hard for developers to unload property built in anticipation of booming markets.

World's Fair 1990 pony pulling results

NORTH WATERFORD—Pony pulling results from the World's Fair 1990, North Waterford, are listed below. The drag is loaded on a percentage, based on the weight of the animal.

First place was awarded to Don Farrington of Litchfield for a pull of 526 feet, six inches; second went to Zeke Humphrey of East Burke, Vt. for a 517-foot pull; third place was also Zeke Humphrey, for a pull of 390 feet; fourth went to Robert Libby of East Lebanon for a 385-foot, two-inch pull.

In the sweepstakes pull—3,000 pounds on the drag—first place was awarded to Robert Rines of Pittston, 829 feet; second to Melvin Wainwright of Dixmont, 726 feet, six inches; third to Stan Robbins of Dryden, 479 feet, six inches.

The fair opened last Thursday, with special contests and game tables for senior citizens. Music was provided by Norm and Betty Decoteau.

The winner of the first King Arthur flour baking contest was Cindy Kane Olson of Bethel, with runner up Roger Green of North Waterford; placing third was Mary Burke from Bolsters Mills.

Boise HAZMAT team to assist county

OXFORD COUNTY—A hazardous materials cleanup team from Boise Cascade in Rumford will be assisting Oxford County in emergencies involving such substances as liability insurance and other details are worked out satisfactorily between the county and Boise officials.

Local Emergency Planning Committee Chairman Eugene Boivin said at an LEPC meeting Tuesday that county commissioners will need to provide liability insurance coverage to free the approximately 35-member volunteer Boise HAZMAT team from responsibility during emergencies that take place off Boise Cascade property.

Jim Olsen, a Boise official, stressed that, even if the county and Boise sign a contract, town fire departments must understand that the paper company's hazardous materials team would not be a first responder in emergencies.

The team, consisting of Boise employee volunteers, would be called to the scene of an emergency by firefighters and would be responsible for the technical removal of hazardous materials, he said. Local fire departments and police would be responsible for initial response and securing the scene of an accident until the HAZMAT crew arrives, Olsen said.

Boivin told firefighters and others attending Tuesday's meeting the LEPC has a six-hour training video available for local fire departments to teach firefighters and police how to protect themselves from injury from hazardous materials, and how to support a HAZMAT team. To date no fire departments have asked for the training materials, said Boivin, who recently retired as Rumford's fire chief.

County agrees MDOT can bid paving

OXFORD COUNTY—Oxford County commissioners July 17 agreed to allow the Maine Department of Transportation to advertise bids for paving work on Andover B Hill Road for work to be scheduled for next year.

A representative from the area MDOT office in Dixfield telephoned Oxford County Administrative Assistant Carole Mahoney to ask if the county wanted to allow MDOT to bid for the rural county road between Andover and Rumford while bidding for paving work on Routes 2 and 5 near Andover.

The "piggy back" bidding could save the county money by using a contractor whose equipment is already in the area.

County Treasurer William Perkins told commissioners some contractors are having financial difficulties due to the business slump plaguing Maine and that "piggy backing" would help contractors work more efficiently while saving money for the county.

Commissioners instructed Mahoney to pursue the matter with MDOT. The committee also agreed to pay $1,870 as the county's share of running the boundary line between Newry and Riley with the state paying the remainder. Mahoney said it is her understanding that the line hasn't been re-marked since the 1940s.

Pastor and Mrs. Donald Grover returned from their vacation. The morning message: "Where is the Peace? Jesus Promised." Matthew 10:34-42. It was foretold Jesus would bring peace—Isaiah 2. During his life time those near him followed—Luke 7. We now live in a state of spiritual war—John 10.
Closing hymn: "Like a River Glorious."

North Paris

By DORIS C. LAWRENCE

I hope this week has been "warm" enough for everyone.

Joe Kalinowski has had for company, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Record, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Record, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Doris Lawrence, Millie Anderson and Blanche Brown from Connecticut. John Cox and family have cut his hay and done a good job.

Saturday, July 14, Gertrude Birney and I attended a surprise baby shower for Sandra O'Leary at her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eino Kuvalja's home. What a lot of lovely gifts and delicious refreshments! Quite a few there.

Don't forget West Paris Senior Citizens, Tuesday, Aug. 7, will meet at the Baptist parking lot and go to Molycock Grange and then to the Chicken Coop in Mexico.

Don't forget, Saturday, July 28, is our strawberry shortcake with real whipped cream at North Paris Community Hall starting at 5 p.m.

Sunday, July 15, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brett were given a wedding reception at North Paris Community Hall. They were married June 22. They are making their home presently with his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brett. It was sure hot that day.

Tuesday, July 17, Millie Anderson, Blanche Brown and I attended the concert at South Paris. A very good crowd.

Today, Thursday, July 19, the carpenters are gone and I've been cleaning up and sweating too.

July 19, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher went to Massachusetts to pick up his sister, Fannie Whitten, to visit for a couple of weeks.

Callers have been Joe Vatcher, Howard Anderson, Hershel Abbott,

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Joe Kalinowski, Millie Anderson, Blanche Brown and Priscilla Brett. Roy Silver called but I was up visiting Barbara Felt.

Friday, July 20, Millie Anderson, Blanche Brown and Doris Lawrence went with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card to Northland, Berlin, N.H. for lunch. Cynthia Lawhorn and Jackson Oja were united in marriage Saturday, July 14, at the Sacred Heart Church in Portland by Father Lavesque. Among the attendants were David and Karen Lawhorn, brother and sister of the bride and Julie and Jerry Oja, sister and brother of the groom. Jason Canfield, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer and Gail Oja, sister of the groom, read from the scripture. A reception was held at the Keeley Banquet Hall in Portland. They will be residing in Johnston, R.I. Jackson's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oja.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Fox have returned from a visit with her father, Charles Farrar, and other kinfolk in Moorehead City, N.C.

Roger Dock and family of Glastonbury, Conn. are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dock. Timothy Dock will be spending a few weeks with his grandparents. Gretchen Dock, Alice Robbins and Nathan Mitchell-Keru of Newton, Mass. joined the family gathering on Saturday.

Glady Cross is a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway.

Gayland Doon remains a patient at Stephens Memorial Hospital and Sonny Bean has returned home from Central Maine Medical Center, Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stevens have returned from a vacation at Small Point.

A group of Senior Citizens from Bethel and Norway enjoyed a trip to Bailey's Island, Wednesday, July 18. The group ate at the Log Cabin Restaurant, enjoyed a visit to Cundy's Harbor and the famous Land's End Gift Shop. They shopped at Cook's Corner, Brunswick. A wonderful day for seniors, one of several planned for summer and fall. Carey McLendon of Travel-Wise and Bill, the bus driver, made this a most pleasant trip.

Newry

By GIL SEELEY

About 82 friends and relatives attended Paul Wight's retirement party Friday night, July 13, at the Bear River Grange Hall with a ham and strawberry shortcake feast served by the Grange members and a few young relatives. A tribute was read to Paul for his kindness and always willingness to help his neighbors and friends who needed help. Sis and Archie Post called him their "Man Friday." We all wish luck and health in his retirement years...May God bless him.

The message for the July 15 service at the Newry Community Church by Pastor Rodney Hanson was "The Reward for the Suffering," and the Scripture readings were Isaiah, 53:1-13, Romans, 8:18-25 and St. Matthew 13:1-9 and 18-25.

Louise Tetley and yours truly paid a visit to Amy Hanson and wished her a happy birthday last Friday at Cozy Inn Nursing Home in Rumford. Her birthday was July 14.

Maine Street '90 flea market on Sunday, July 15, was a great success. We want to thank everyone who participated and helped and the public who bought items. Thank you all.

Sis Post hosted a bridal shower for Gretchen Wight, July 15, at the Historical Recreation Room in Bethel, about 35 local friends and relatives attended. Gretchen received many beautiful gifts, and punch with the help of Cindy Moxey and Betsy Clark and a few others. Gretchen will be married sometime in September.

The Newry ladies who "Bowl for Fun" were Karlene Bachelder, Betsy Clark, Louise Tetley, Olive Anderson and Gil Seeley. Rena Powers was a guest. Betsy was high on the triples and also high on the singles with one string of 110. All went to lunch and shopping.

Mrs. Aaron Bachelder, her friend, Holly, and children, Krista, Jennifer, Holly and Aaron, Jr. from Mars Hill visited Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bachelder (the children's grandparents) over the weekend. Jennifer celebrated her sixth birthday Saturday with cake and ice cream.

The third annual Barnett reunion was held July 7 in Errol, N.H. at the home of Russell Barnett on Akers Pond with 187 attending. Guests came from Prince Edward Island, Connecticut, Massachusetts and also Maine and New Hampshire. Sylvia and Bill Wight were among those present. A picnic and games were enjoyed by all.

P.S. Paul Wight retired after 36 years of working for the State Department. Thompson Moore presented him a "Maine Wall Clock" from the gang and he also received a gift of money from his friends and relatives. Irving and Norma Bessey of Elkhart, Ind., attended a family cookout at her mother's, Freda Robertson's, on July 9. Also attending were Philip Korhonen and family of West Bethel; Sue Moore and family of Newry; Robert Korhonen and Shirley of Elkhart, Ind.; Penny Knox and family of Bethel; and Leslie Robertson and family of Newry. Suddenly out of the sky four kite flyers (hang-gliders) flew in from Sunday River and helped finish up the leftovers.

Northwest Bethel

By CLARICE GIBSON

Friday again and I am once again here at the emergency room at Stephens Memorial Hospital with Frankie. Theresa came about noon July 14 and spent the night. Sunday the weather had turned hot and so as I had started defrosting a turkey in the refrigerator earlier in the week and had to cook it so decided to make blueberry muffins. After Ira, Kristin and James William came we had eight for dinner and Wilfred and Kim of Lewiston came in the middle of the afternoon, so we had the turkey again and this time we had nine. The weather has stayed hot all week and Monday was just a lazy day.

Tuesday went out early to get a batch of beet greens and got them ready for the pot before we went to Oxford to meet once again with Margaret and Edward Staples. We stopped to eat lunch at Country Way and while I was there a lady came and patted my shoulder and said, "You are a Hersey aren't you?" I told her that my mother's cousin died in his death years before. I have been mistaken for my mother's sister and I don't know how often I'll be sitting and Frank will say that I look just like Grammie sitting there. Thirty-six years ago we lived in an apartment just across the hall and as we didn't have a television, Frank would go in and watch with Grammie. We had time to kill before going to Staples so we drove around in Otisfield and Oxford. So many houses we would drive by Frank would tell about the people who lived there when he would go to work on their furnaces or to install a furnace. Suspect that after 30 years not too many of the same people are living there.

Wednesday we went to Rangeley for the day to visit Frank's sister and husband, Roberta and Edward Fearar.

On the way up we saw a bull and cow moose. The bull moose's horns were in velvet and we (Frank, George and I) sat for quite a while watching. We had lunch and supper at Pevar's and on the way home saw two more moose.

As we drove onto the Northwest Bethel Road the sun was like a great red ball in the sky. Soon the clouds were all edged in pink with a pink glow in the sky. What beautiful scenery nature can present.

Thursday was another day of cooking as they brought in raspberries, rhubarb and cherries. Also radishes and peas. If anyone out there has a surplus of vegetables maybe, if it is something I could use, we could make a deal to swap apples or plums.

Our number is 896-2972.

While I have been sitting here I have had Frank and Sid Murphy come speak with me. Had a nice chat with a camp nurse from a summer camp in Waterford who had brought with me in for x-rays. Duchette came to talk with me as his wife and I use to work together at Wilner's. On the way home we ran into some much needed rain. Wouldn't think with all the rain this spring that it would be so much needed.

Ernest and Alberta Angevine recently drove to Nova Scotia for a week's vacation. They drove all along the coast of Nova Scotia and went into Yarmouth, Nova Scotia.

July 15, Ernest and Alberta Angevine had a cookout with their daughter Judy Coolidge and three daughters for lunch and for supper a cookout with their son Dick and Sue Angevine and family.

Rollie and Phil Glines had about 24 guests for a cookout July 8. Most of the guests were from the New Hampshire area.

Heidi Glines, daughter of Rollie and Phil Glines, came back July 12 from two and a half weeks in Scotland. The Navy Reserve sent her to the Holy Locke Submarine Base. After she went to London, England.

Dan and Karen Bean have a new husky mix puppy, Sasha. She is black and white.

George and Betty Gilbert recently spent a couple of days camping near the Rangeley area.

Matthew Laban has summer work in Scotland and Christopher Laban has work in England. They are the sons of John and Sue Laban.

Brian Anderson went to Calais, July 15, to begin his classes in Heavy Equipment Operation. His parents, Steve and Pat Anderson, drove him up and also his great-aunt Elizabeth Morse of Sudbury Village rode up with them.

Arlan, Heidi, Julie and Jody Littlefield have moved into the first house on our road coming in from Bethel. At the time we moved in they were raising broiler chickens in the large hen house.

Homer and Edie Smith went July 13 to watch their grandson, Matthew Smith, play in the All Star Team. August Murphy went home July 15 to East Sebago from her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy. She will be coming back July 29.

Melissa, Matthew and Elaine Barowski of Gorham, N.H. visited Frank and Sid Murphy July 18.

Joe Shimamura had vacation from his work last week. July 16 they (Joe and Gerry) took their grandson, Justin, to the Nazarene Church Camp. They drove back to Pemaquid where they camped overnight. They went to Thomaston Prison gift shop and Maine Yankee, Tuesday, and spent the night at a Popham Beach campground. Wednesday they went fishing for tinker mackerel and when we got home from Rangeley we found a lovely mess all cleaned in the refrigerator. Frankie was here when Joe brought them down.

Debbie Seames also took her son, Rusty Seames, to the Nazarene Church Camp, Monday.

Joyce Stearns joined Debbie and family at their camper by Abbott's Anchorage for a birthday cake, July 17.

Kyle Trinward, son of Kevin and Cindy Trinward of Gray, stayed with the Bob Howe family overnight on Saturday, July 14.

Monday, July 16, the Bob Howe family spent the day at Acqua-boggia in Saco.

Evelyn Hilborn recently returned from Toronto, Canada where she had worked. She has a mother phoebe bird and four baby birds on her veranda.

The Angevines and Coolidges have been haying. How nice the fields look after they have been mowed and I like the smell of new mowed grass drying.

The flocks and trumpet vines are already blossomed and when they blossom it reminds me that once again fall is on its way.

Speakers have been showering us with pearls of wisdom for centuries and if their valuable advice were laid end to end, it would still be just so good as new. Very little of it has ever been used.

Mollyockett Day 1990...

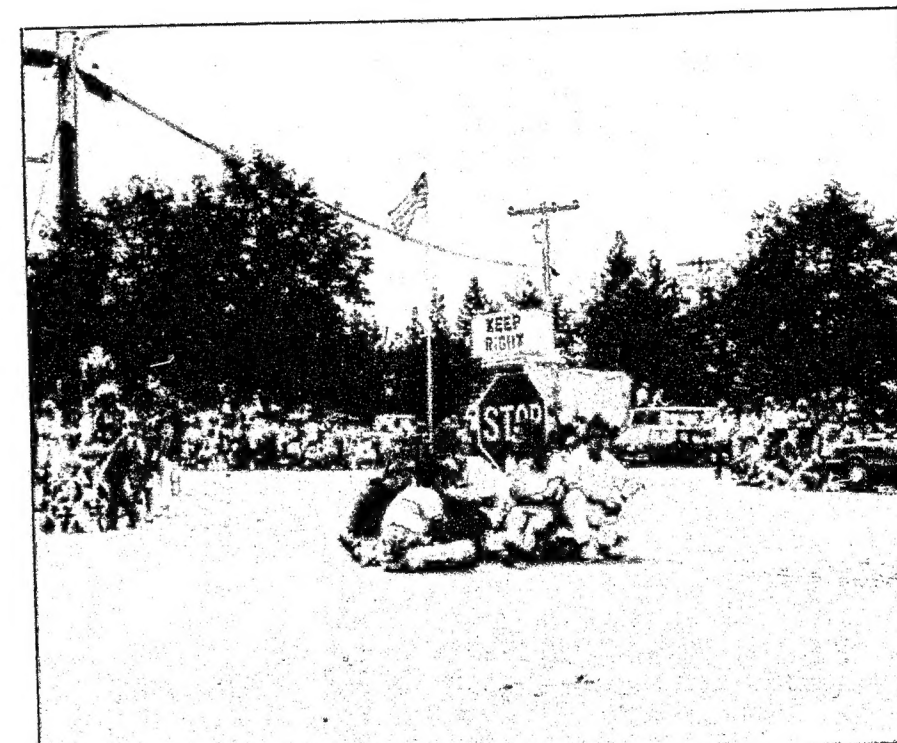

2ND PLACE winners in the Mollyockett Day Parade were the Bethel Boy Scouts.

GOOD OLDE SUMMERTIME was a natural first place theme for the Bethel Rotary Club's float.

RECYCLE, AND ENJOY EARTH LONGER—urged this prize-winning entry in the float parade.

BEST SEAT IN THE HOUSE—The stop sign at the head of Main St. provided a great vantage point for these parade viewers.

Winners

McDonald of Lovell, 28:24; second place, Randy Easter of Jay, 30:48; third place, Jeff Arsenault of Rumford, 31:53.

Fifteen to 19 years old: first place, Jamie Frost, 33:27; second place, Dan Welleham of Auburn, 33:42; third place, Rick Matteson of Locke Mills, 34:56.

Thirty to 39 years old: first place, Randy Easter of Jay, 30:48; second place, Jeff Arsenault of Rumford, 31:53; third place, Mark E. Kjelman, 34:00.

Forty to 49 years old: first place, Kevin McDonald of Lovell, 28:24; second place, Glenn Laforest, 33:51; third place, Nathaniel Mason of Stoneham 33:54.

Fifty to 59 years old: first place, Jack Ireton Hewett, 33:50; second place, Dillon Gillies, 34:49; third place, John Howe of North Waterford, 36:39.

In Saturday's float competition, first place went, appropriately, to the Good Old Summertime float, of the Bethel Rotary. Second place went to the Bethel Boy Scouts and third to the Bethel Cadette Troop 712's Earth Day float.

The runners didn't have the only good legs Saturday. The 7th Annual Frog Jumping Contest was another great success. One hundred and thirty kids and frogs vied for the prize money.

Darcy Buker's frog took first place with a jump of 140½ inches. Second and third place went to Wendy Walker and Nicholas Smith, whose frog jumped 127½ and 124½ inches. A consolation prize for the shortest jump, 19½ inches, was awarded to Stacy Littlehale.

The frog jump was sponsored by Prims and the Bethel Area Health Center.

The ever-popular bed race was won this year by Tri-Town Ambulance Service, which co-sponsored the event with the Bethel Area Health Center.

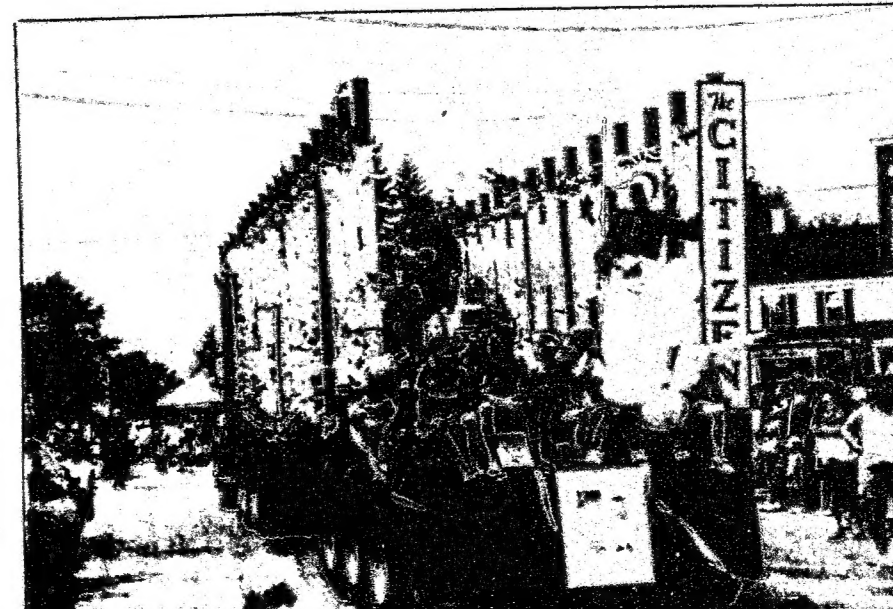

In the loggers' contest, Jeff Fleet took first place, followed by Scott Berry in second and Steven Cross in third.

THE FLOATS, ROLLED BY LARGE AND SMALL

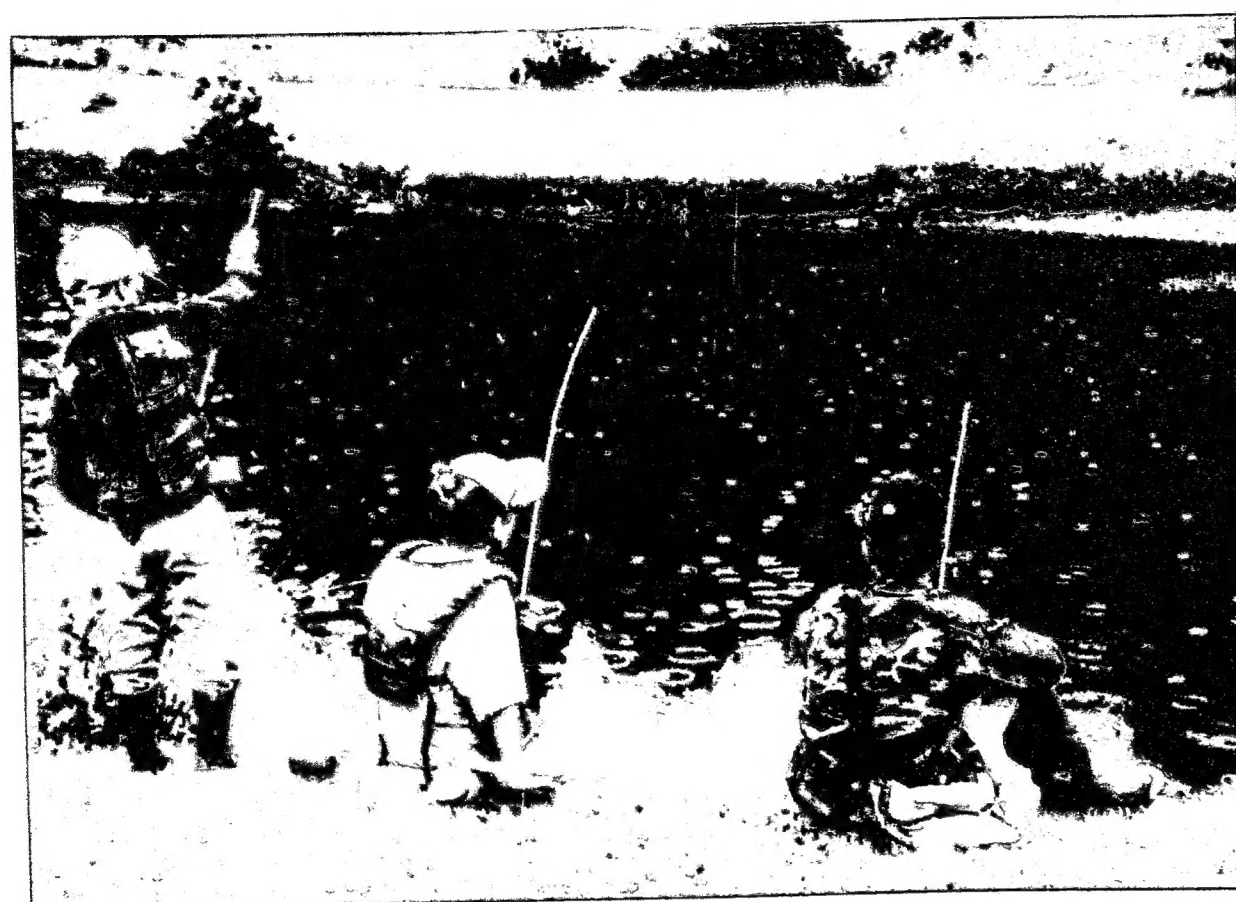

FROM PULP TRUCK TO PRESS RUN—The vehicle chosen by Bethel's members of the fourth estate symbolized how much of the local economy rolls along on the back of the woods-products industry. The scribes denied, however, that their float's color scheme (basic yellow) reflected in any way on the quality of journalism practiced hereabouts.

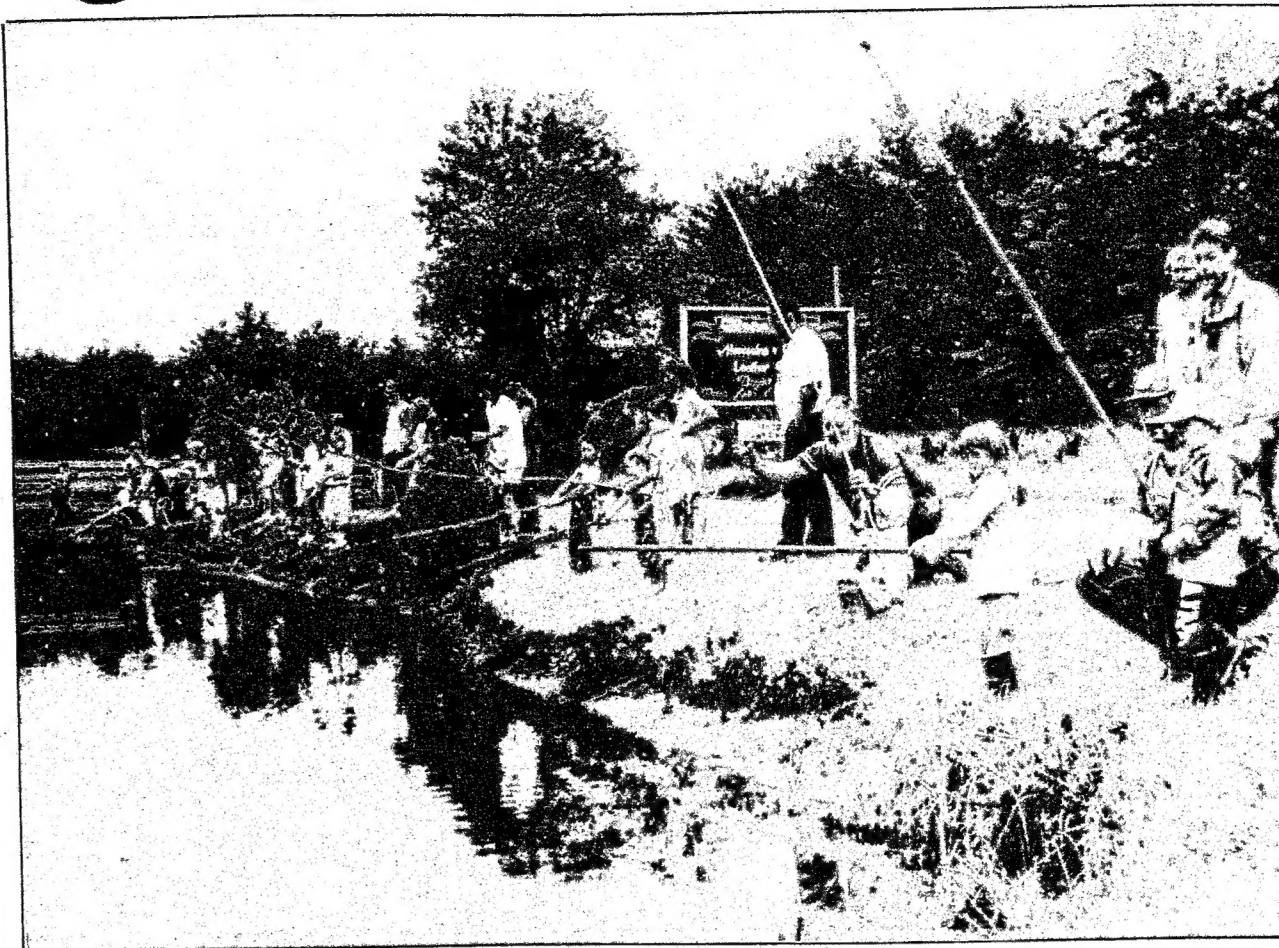

THE MARCHERS STRUTTED BY SHORT AND TALL

...a day enjoyed by all

WELL GOT OUT—these three young anglers came dressed for the sometimes stormy weather.

A SHORELINE OF YOUNG ANGLERS surrounded Neil Olson's pond Friday, in pursuit of that winning trout or sucker.

SIZZLIN' GOOD—Scott Dennis kept the steaks coming.

THE FACE BEHIND THE MASK—Jerry Bernier, 11, of the Bethel Red Sox, is ready to sacrifice his body for the team as he unflinchingly awaits the next high and hard wiffle ball.

COUNTRY MUSIC provided a perfect background for fairgoing.

ROTARY AUCTION—It was standing room only last Friday night at the annual Rotary Club auction, held in the cafeteria at Telstar. The auction, which started at 6:30 p.m. with Rotarian David Murphy as auctioneer, ended about six hours later, with Murphy still as auctioneer. The auction raised $8,500 for the local group.

IT WOULDN'T BE A FAIR without lots of kids and balloons.

SPINNING SWEETS—Edith Kenney of Skowhegan spins her cotton candy for sale to the sweet of tooth.

GOP—The Republican elephant makes its debut on Mollycodd Day 1990.

NO SOAP—The fountain was dry for this year's fair, and the nearby craftspeople could breathe easier—since they didn't have to worry about the water works of the young and mischievous.

Hospice volunteers complete training course in Rumford

Northern Oxford County residents now have another resource when faced with a life threatening illness. Not only is high quality in-home clinical care available, but specially trained volunteers are available to help with non clinical issues.

Receiving certificates for recently completing 24 hours of AHHS Hospice Volunteer Training Program were: Gabrielle Moore, Andrea Beauchene and Shirley Sanborn from Rumford; Carol Hatch and Mary Lou Fiske from Bethel; Barbara Kaulback from Andover; Betty Linke from Rangeley; Elizabeth Morgan from Auburn; and Alex Dion from Jay.

Organized by Janet Stowell, R.N., AHHS Hospice volunteer coordinator and Lesslie Shaffer, R.N., special services coordinator, the course included topics pertinent to hospice care, including communication and listening skills taught by Gwyneth Bohr from Bethel; a visit to S.G. Thibault Funeral Home with a talk by Steve Thibault and Rhonda Wiles of Wiles Funeral Homes; Spiritual Aspects of the Dying by Reverend Ron Ashworth of Mexico; Impact on Family Dynamics with Terminally Ill, by Bernice Mickeriz, R.N., of Rumford; and Understanding Separation, Loss and Grief with Jackie Wiese, counseling psychologist of Bethel.

Cindy Burke, Hospice R.N., Mexico, also spoke to the volunteers about clinical issues relating to the AHHS hospice program.

AHHS currently has 70 trained home-hospice volunteers throughout Oxford, Franklin and Androscoggin counties.

The AHHS Hospice Program was initiated five years ago in an effort to provide sensitive, knowledgeable care and assistance for terminally ill patients and their families.

AHHS is a private, non-profit corporation, offering a wide range of health care and social services in the home setting throughout the tri-county area. With a staff of approximately 370, AHHS maintains offices in Auburn, Norway, Rumford, Farmington and Livermore Falls. AHHS home hospice care is available to any family and may be partially or totally covered by Medicare, Medicaid, Blue Cross, Blue Shield or other insurance.

New doctor appointed to Stephens Hospital staff

Harrison F. Hahn, President of Western Maine Health Care Corporation has announced the appointment of Frank Kieliszek, M.D., to the staff of Stephens Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Kieliszek has joined the Oxford Hills Internal Medicine Group, where he is practicing internal medicine. The Oxford Hills Internal Medicine Group believe that by adding a fifth board certified internist, OHIMG will be in a position to better serve the people of Oxford Hills.

After completing his undergraduate work at Yale College in New Haven, Conn., he trained as a physician's assistant at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md. He received his M.D. from the University of Maryland School of Medicine in Baltimore.

Dr. Kieliszek served as a physician's assistant at Eastern Maine Medical Center in Bangor and later at Calais Regional Hospital. His most recent affiliation was with Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester, N.Y., where he held the position of chief resident.

Dr. Kieliszek, his wife and two sons recently settled in South Paris.

New doctor at Stephens Memorial

Mark A. Douglas, M.D. has been appointed by Harrison F. Hahn, President of Western Maine Health Care Corporation, to the staff of Stephens Memorial Hospital, where he will serve as an Emergency Room Physician.

A native of Maine, Dr. Douglas received his undergraduate degree from the University of Maine in Orono. He received his M.D. from Dalhousie University School of Medicine in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada, and recently completed his residency in Internal Medicine at Maine Medical Center in Portland.

Dr. Douglas and his wife Lisa recently moved to Gray.

10K Stark Trek VII race set for Aug. 4

The 1990 Stark Trek VII 10K (6.2 mile) Road Race will be held at 9 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 4, at the Conway Village Green in Conway, N.H.

According to Race Director David Sporic, over 300 runners from throughout New England are expected to participate in this premier running event to benefit the Mt. Washington Valley Ski Team.

The race is certified by the Athletic Congress (TAC), sanctioned by the Road Runners Club of America, hosted by the White Mt. Millers, with timing and results by Granite State Race Services.

The Stark Trek 10K is run on paved two-lane scenic country roads with moderate hills in the first half and flat or downhill grades in the second half.

Racer pre-registration of $12 ($14 race day) includes professional timing on a certified course, buffet lunch, raffle, long sleeve t-shirts for those preregistered by July 31 and individual awards for the first five finishers in seven men's and women's age categories and the first three finishers for the overall men's and women's teams.

The Nathan H. Smith Memorial Fun Run for the children ages two to 12 will be run in conjunction with the Stark Trek 10K.

Starting at 8 a.m. sharp, the quarter-mile and one-mile race will be held in Leader Mary Clark Webster to examine key issues facing the state.

Said Webster, "Whether we are the parents of young children or retirees on fixed income, we are all concerned about availability of healthcare and our ability to pay for it. It is one of the benchmarks of a responsive society and I wanted people on this task force who had a broad range of experience to provide important input. That's why I chose Al Barth."

Barth is a retired educator, free farmer and is a member of the school board. Said Barth, "I am excited about contributing to this important work. I believe Maine people may not fully understand the complexity of health care and the cost associated with it. This is my opportunity to learn and to incorporate my own ideas at the same time. We have vital work to do."

The Healthcare Task Force will complete its work in the next eight weeks and the findings will lead to Republican initiatives to the Legislature in January.

This week at NTL

Approximately 120 participants are attending the eighth session of programs in human resource development at NTL Institute this week.

Participants are from Saudi Arabia, West Germany, Ireland, England, Haiti, Mexico, Israel, Australia, Venezuela and India, as well as individuals from throughout the United States and Canada.

The programs currently in session include topics on managing complex change, professional development, intervention skills and Neuro-Linguistic programming. The Human Interaction Laboratory, NTL's entry program, is also being offered.

Miriam (Mikki) Ritvo, as overall dean for four weeks, again led Monday's orientation session, at which Merton Brown welcomed the NTL participants and staff on behalf of the town of Bethel and the Bethel/NTL Liaison Committee. NTL Board member Sherman Kingsbury also spoke a few words of greeting.

NTL's Sunrise Seminars continue this week with the following informal presentations by staff members:

Thursday: Bryant Rollins and Shirley Stetson, "Race and Gender: The Common Denominators in Change." Friday: Pat Bidol, "Using O.D. to Mediate Complex Disputes with Diverse Parties." Saturday: Jane Moosbrucker, "Visioning for a Sustainable Society."

The Sunrise Seminars are held

Pine Tree Legal offers services at area sites

An attorney from Pine Tree Legal Assistance, Inc. will be in South Paris on Friday, July 27, from 10 a.m. to noon at the Paris Public Library and noon at the Rumford Public Library, also on Friday, July 27, from 2-4 p.m.

If you would like to make an appointment to see an attorney on that date, call Pine Tree Legal Assistance at 784-1558.

Pine Tree Legal Assistance is a legal services program serving low-income people who meet income eligibility criteria. It focuses on housing problems, including evictions; problems with public benefits, such as AFDC or General Assistance; as well as utility shut-off matters, special education problems and unemployment problems.

Pine Tree Legal Assistance, Inc. will be in South Paris and in Rumford once each month, to serve low-income people in Oxford County.

Meeting House quilt show set for Saturday, Aug. 25

The annual quilt show for the Bethel area will be held at the Middle Intervale Meeting House on Aug. 25 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Chairman Mary C. Keniston has selected committees to assist her. The calling committee is Geraldine Howe, Arlene Brown and the chairman. Anyone having an old quilt or a new one, quilted pillows or wall hangings are urged to call one of the above committee members. About 35 people have already indicated their wish to display a quilted project and the members will be calling them to verify a description.

Security for the meeting house and its contents on Friday night will be supplied again by Alden and Mabel Kennett with their travel motor home. Members are most grateful for their contribution.

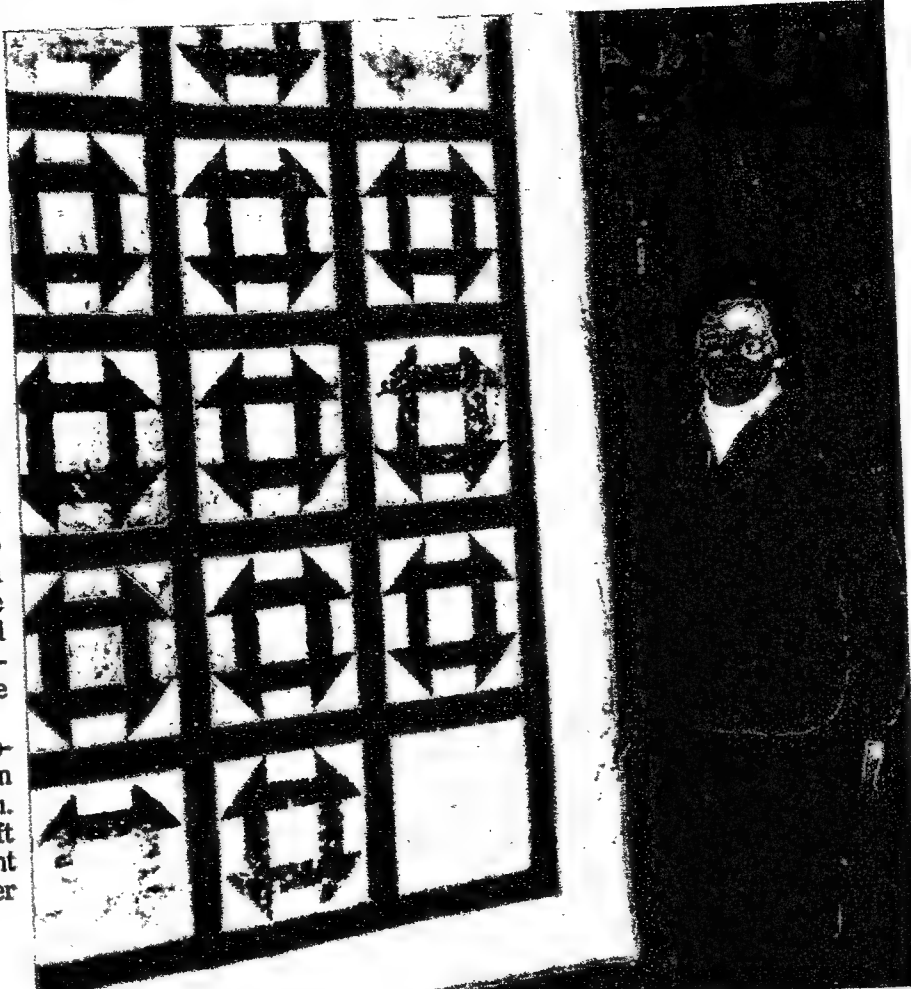

Society President Lynn Boschetti will handle advertising. Posters will be made and displayed by Arlene Brown and Barbara Kuyk. Virginia Hutchins has volunteered to assist with the muslin identification tags for the quilt.

The highlight of the show this year is a quilt made by members for which raffle tickets are being sold. The winning ticket will be drawn late in the afternoon on the day of the quilt show. The completed Church-Dash design quilt has been on display in the meeting room of the Moses Mason House and later will be at the Bethel Library.

Virginia Keniston is responsible for the quilt committee who contributed to the workmanship and completion. All members are selling chances on the prize and tables are being set up to sell them on Mollycodd Day and Sunday, Canada Days on the lawn of the Moses Mason House.

Those helping on the tables are Debbie Michaud, Geraldine Howe, Don and Arlene Brown and Mary Keniston. Anyone interested in having a craft table outside, should contact president Lynn Boschetti at 824-3535 for further information.

MIDDLE INTERVALE QUILT—Ginny Keniston displays the Church-Dash quilt which will be raffled off at the fourth annual Middle Intervale Quilt Show and Sale Aug. 25 at the Middle Intervale Meeting House.

Annual arts fair Aug. 18 in Lovell

The 15th Annual Arts and Artisans Fair sponsored by the Charlotte E. Hobbs Memorial Library, Lovell will be held rain or shine, Saturday, Aug. 18, 1990 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The fair will be housed in the Agricultural Exhibition Building on the Fryeburg fairgrounds located on Route 5 in Fryeburg.

More than 40 artists from around New England will be contributing juried works to this renowned fair. Handcrafted baskets, pewter, jewelry, fabric arts and herbs will be among the items for sale, as well as light refreshments and flowers.

There will be ample parking available and no admission fee. For more information, call 207-925-3171 or 207-997-2200 or write c/o the library, Box 105, Lovell, Me., 04051.

Grange presents award

West Paris Grange 298 recently presented its Community Service Award to Harry and Grace Archer for their years of dedicated service on the Tri-Town Rescue squad and for their work in the community.

The Archers were instrumental in the organization of Tri-Town Rescue when the service began approximately 10 years ago.

A presentation was also made to Earl Andrews, for his 50 years of service in the Grange. Andrews is a very active member of the Grange working on many programs, and county fair projects.

Horse show, Wildman Biathlon set for Aug. 12 in Shelburne

On Saturday, Aug. 12, a special horse show, starting at 8 a.m. will be held at the horse ring located behind the Shelburne Town Garage. This will be an all-day event, rain or shine. A number of trophies will be presented following the day's event.

Also on Saturday one of the outstanding events will be the "Wildman Biathlon," which made its successful debut last summer.

A challenging single-day, multi-sport event, the biathlon is the brainchild of Moriah Sports owner, Mike Micucci of Gorham, N.H. It combines running, biking and mountain climbing, with the first event (a 10K footrace) beginning in Shelburne on the scenic North Road.

The footrace is followed by a 40K bike race from Shelburne to the top of Pinkham Notch. While the 10K footrace is noted for its quiet, off-the-beaten-track surroundings, the bike race is remarkable for the scenery of New Hampshire's Presidential Mountain Range. In the final two miles of the bike race, the total elevation gain is 1,500 feet.

The final leg of the biathlon is a five kilometer climb up Wildcat Ski area's "Polecat Trail." The "Polecat" may be a fairly easy trail to ski down, but it's a good challenge to run up, with an elevation gain of 2,100 feet.

The biathlon race starts at 9 a.m. Saturday, followed by the parade at 11 a.m., a chicken barbecue at noon, then square dance demonstrations, kiddie games, bluegrass music, and a bean hole supper, which will continue for the rest of the afternoon.

After supper, another square dance demonstration and a special auction of vegetables, flowers and other goods that were on display all day will take place.

On Sunday there will be a canoe race from the Power House Bridge to the Meadow Road Bridge, with registration beginning at 9 a.m. for the 10 o'clock race. At noon is the Shelburne Fire Department's muster, with fire departments from Maine and New Hampshire participating.

Winding up the Shelburne Festival weekend will be a special church service at the Shelburne Union Church at 7 p.m. with Rev. John Russell speaking.

Conservation school plans open house

To celebrate Lakes Week and Bryant Pond's 175th anniversary, the Maine Conservation School will host an open house on Sunday, July 29.

Activities and refreshments will be available from 1-4 p.m. commencing with a Mt. Christopher family nature hike. At 2 p.m. there will be a historical house tour followed by environmental games for kids of all ages.

For more information call 865-2068. No pets please.

THOUGHTS FROM THE Pastor's Study

The Bethel Area Clergy Association, with the help of pastors of surrounding churches, brings you these meditations. Not based on any set theme, they will be individual for each pastor. It is hoped you will find in these words, comfort and help for your daily life.

Hospitality, the entertainment of strangers or sojourners as guests, was considered a sacred duty in Biblical times. Summer is the time in Bethel when we formally practice hospitality.

Last week there was high excitement as we prepared for Mollycoddett Day, when we would entertain many folks from out of town. People worked together to create floats for the parade. Other folks gathered together their artistic and culinary creations for booths. Children selected the highest, longest jumping frogs they could find. Joggers ran around Bethel preparing for the races. Fiddlers practiced for the contest. Perhaps some honed their horseshoe-throwing skills. Surely saws were sharpened and muscles strengthened for the lumberjack competition.

And food. Groups planned and purchased and made ready all the food everyone could possibly need or want. Food is essential to hospitality. Satiated, we could 'oh' and 'ah' at the fireworks lit up the sky. Mollycoddett Day we make up for the lack of fireworks on Independence Day.

This Bethel hospitality involves oldtimers and newcomers all working together for the common good. Residents and strangers all have a wonderful time. There is a good warm feeling, a sense of community.

Mollycoddett Day and Sudbury Canada Days are special hospitality events. However, all summer we welcome strangers and strangers become friends from NTL.

Summer is indeed the season when we especially practice hospitality in the Bethel area. We may not have thought of it as a sacred duty, but we have treated it as such. What could be more appropriate since Bethel means "House of God."

Breath test

had such a policy, but some "very few" do use the test nonetheless. At Monday night's board meeting, Policy Committee Chairman Ray Harrington of Greenwood, argued that a breathalyzer option would give Telstar administrators badly needed leverage in enforcing the school's drug policy. It is currently a violation of school policy for a student to have any alcohol in his or her system, but administrators say that without a way to prove a student has been drinking, the policy is extremely difficult to enforce. During last year's discussions, however, directors worried that such a policy would be a violation of students' civil rights, especially if a student could be suspended for refusing to take the test—as was the case under the proposed policy.

They also expressed concern over possible community objection to students being forced to take breath tests.

The directors discussed these issues briefly Monday, then agreed to take up the matter again at the next board meeting, which is scheduled for August 13.

In other action Monday, the board regrettably turned down a request from the Mahosue Arts Council for $4,000 to be used for assembly programs and workshops in district schools.

Such an amount was cut from the district budget earlier this year, but the Arts Council, in a letter to Supt. Craig, asked if the funds could perhaps be found elsewhere in the budget.

Board members agreed that the money was just not available at this point in the year, but they praised the work of the council and urged its representative, Vicki Rackliffe, to return in December, by which time some money might be freed up.

Rackliffe said the council will increase its other fund-raising activities so as not to be forced to cut programs. "We think the programs are so worthwhile that we're going to do them anyway," she said.

The board also tabled action on a proposal to transfer $26,000 from undesignated surplus to cover a deficit in the district's Food Service Department.

Financial manager Bruce Powell

Ivory S. Currier, Jr.
Electrician

Bethel

explained that food service deficits have been increasing, due to decreases in government commodities and subsidies, and to fewer parents taking the time to fill out the financial forms necessary to qualify a student for the free lunch program (for which the district is heavily subsidized).

Most school-lunch programs now run at a deficit, Supt. Craig said.

The directors, however, questioned whether the undesignated funds could legally be transferred without voter approval, and they expressed concern about reducing the surplus fund any further.

Going into this year's budget building, the district's undesignated surplus stood at $135,000. The directors allocated $60,000 of that amount to reduce the local tax assessment, and at Monday's meeting they worried that if more money were taken from the fund there would not be enough money to reduce next year's tax bill.

They agreed to put off action on the matter until their next meeting. In the interim Craig will research the legality question.

Craig also presented a letter from the Department of Education saying that the long-proposed addition to the Crescent Park School is slated for state approval in July 1993.

He estimated that if the board set to work now on necessary related matters—such as the local voter referendum the project will require—then students might be able to move into the addition as early as 1994.

Director John Brown, a veteran of similar projects, suggested July of 1995 as a more likely move-in date.

Much of the board's time Monday was spent filling personnel positions for the coming school year. The following appointments were approved: Joyce Sirois as teaching principal at the Andover Elementary School (salary: $33,454), Marcelle Kilpatrick as French teacher at the high school ($26,139), Cheryl Porter as language arts teacher at the middle school ($21,622), Donna Woodward as home economics teacher at the middle school ($21,298), Edward Stevens as elementary art teacher ($25,420), Marcie Tupper as Ethel Bisbee kindergarten teacher ($21,174) and Rockie Graham as adult basic skills instructor ($11,300).

The board also approved the transfer of Elaine Dresser from the middle school to teach math at the high school ($27,133), and approved the extra-curricular appointments of Dan Hart as National Honor Society coordinator and Russell Tornrose as drama coach.

The board also approved the mailing of tax assessment bills to the district towns.

Early in Monday's meeting director Jane Rolfe of Bethel asked for clarification regarding a letter from Summer School Director Kathy Slack that appeared in the July 25 edition of the Citizen. Rolfe asked if the items Slack had said were stolen at Telstar had been district property.

Slack, who was in the audience, said they were not; they were promotional items that had been purchased by the student council for use as incentives in various fund-raising programs.

Board members Denise Putnam of Woodstock and Nancy Dewing of Greenwood did not attend Monday's meeting.

Eden Ridge

said Monday, "The only thing I know about it is what I read in the paper."

He said he preferred not to discuss the auction because his lawyer and the bank were negotiating.

"I don't want to do anything one way or the other to hurt the negotiations," he said.

Angevine, with his partner Barry Saxe of Falmouth, began construction of the condominium development in January of 1987. The corporation has built 40 of the planned 52 units.

Thirty of those 40 units have been sold, according to town records. No units have been recorded on the town books as having been sold since the fourth sale in late November, 1989.

For tax purposes only, the town has assessed the uncompleted units at $44,300 to $49,300, depending on their location in the project. The selling price of the last unit sold was $115,000, also according to town records.

Gould athlete to study at German sports academy

Following a successful sports and academic career at Gould Academy, Paul Koubek of Waldoboro was preparing to enter St. Lawrence University as a freshman in the fall, where he planned to build on his solid high school record. An honor student, student government leader, cross-country team captain and nationally-ranked biathlete, Koubek, 17, was accepted by early decision at St. Lawrence.

Plans changed when Gould Nordic Program director and former national and Olympic Cross-Country coach Dick Taylor arranged a year-long exchange for Koubek and Stefanie Dannemann, a student at the Jugenddorf-Christophorus Academy in Obersalzberg, West Germany.

Since Koubek was one of Taylor's top German students and was a cross-country skier with good potential and proven results in biathlon (fifth place in the 1990 Junior Nationals)—the school seemed to be an ideal location to spend a year between Gould and St. Lawrence. The school has produced numerous Olympic medalists and German national team members, as well as providing a special program for asthmatics, who benefit from the fair climate of the German Alps.

"The school shares some interesting similarities with our programs at Gould. It has a boarding program, but also serves as a school for students in the area," says Taylor. "Also, besides gear, the country's top winter sports athletes for world level competition, the school prepares them for their post-athletic careers."

Koubek's counterpart is Stefanie Dannemann, who will live with a family in Bethel and attend Gould Academy. She is a 16-year-old German girl from the Bavarian Alps near the Austrian border. Both students are very excited about the exchange.

"It is an incredible opportunity," says Koubek, "I'm realizing how lucky I am to be able to study in Obersalzberg and pursue cross-country and biathlon at such a serious level."
